Hello,

I was horrified to hear about the proposal to build a power-station in Espeland. I have visited Espeland many times over the years and perhaps living in Norway, one can underestimate the natural beauty almost everywhere. However, coming from the UK to a place like Espeland which is so beautiful and dramatic, spending time there has been truly life-changing. I, with other friends, have spent many hours walking, swimming and having a wonderful time.

Please reconsider this decision. Espeland is a special place that should not be thoughtlessly ruined.

Kind regards

Sam Noble
