

The map is a detailed topographic representation of the Fortundalen region. It features brown contour lines indicating elevation, with labels such as 400, 600, 800, 1000, and 1200 meters. A prominent red line traces a path through the valley, likely representing a road or a specific trail. This path starts near the bottom left, passing through or near locations like Bruhaugen, Steig, and Holmastad, and extends towards the top right. Other geographical features include the Slettbakkene area, the Nosa-fjell, and several smaller lakes and streams. Numerous place names are scattered across the map, including Bjørk, Holmastad, Nosa, and various 'stølen' (huts or small settlements) like Bruhaugstølen and Stokkastølen. The map also shows the surrounding landscape, including the Morkridsdalen and the Nosa-fjell.
